2019 Minneapolis and Saint Paul Home Tour

Karin DuPaul
Forum Staff

The annual Minneapolis and Saint Paul Home Tour will take place on Saturday, April 27, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and Sunday, April 28, from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Dayton's Bluff homes on the tour this year demonstrate a variety of architecture, age, and style. Included on this year's tour is 216 Bates Avenue, which was a popular destination on last year's tour and is in the process of being converted into a gorgeous private residence.

There will be three houses in a row on East 4th Street that the owners have lived in for years and have done amazing work on. Dayton's Bluff has so many wonderful homes that each year we have a number of them on the tour. Many people from all over the Metro area come to see the Dayton's Bluff homes featured each year. Some of the visitors like it so well that they have moved to the neighborhood.

Volunteers are needed to serve as "neighborhood ambassadors" to help with the tour. On Sunday evening after the tour is over, the traditional "After the Home Tour Supper Party" will be held for the families whose homes are on the tour and all neighborhood ambassador volunteers.

For more information on the Minneapolis and Saint Paul Home Tour, visit www.msphometour.com.

To volunteer, email karindupaul@comcast.net or call 651-776-0550.

216-218 Bates Avenue, historically known as the Schorenstein Garage, was built in 1884 by prominent East Side architect, Augustus Gauger. Fast-forward to 2018, when Cory and Tia Vandenberghe bought the condemned industrial building and began the impressive undertaking of rehabilitating the historic structure into their new dream home.

Their efforts-in-progress were appreciated by Minneapolis and Saint Paul Home Tour participants who marveled at the work the Vandenberghe's had put in to-date.

Every home on the tour has a story, don't miss a single one! Learn more about the couple's progress as they make 216-218 Bates Avenue their home by visiting their website at <http://therailingshop.co/>

Homes needed for 2019 Home Tour

The 2019 Minneapolis/St. Paul Home Tour will be here before we know it. We are hot on the trail for homes to be featured on the Home Tour now. The tour will take place on Saturday, April 27, and Sunday, Saturday April 28. The home tour is for occupied homes to show visitors our wonderful Dayton's Bluff people, homes, and community. Visitors from all over the metro come each year to see the lovely homes in Dayton's Bluff.

Six to eight Dayton's Bluff homes are needed to be on the tour. Homes can be large or small, Victorians or ramblers, or anything in between. Homes may be works-in-progress or finished products. It's a fantastic opportunity for us to show off our neighborhood and all the good things about Dayton's Bluff. Each year some visitors like Dayton's Bluff so much that they buy a home here. The tour is also a great way to get new ideas on remodeling and updating your home. You can nominate your own home, or talk to your neighbors about getting their homes on the tour.

Neighborhood people are also needed to volunteer to help out during the tour. On Sunday evening after the tour is over, an After the Tour Supper Party will be held for the home owners' families and all home tour volunteers. To learn more about having your home on the tour, to volunteer, or for more information, please email karindupaul@comcast.net or call 651-776-0550.

Dark moment in Saint Paul history coming to local stage

A new play from local playwrights

*Krissy Schoenfelder
Landmark Center*

An original historical drama, involving a little known episode of racist violence in Saint Paul's Groveland Park neighborhood, will appear in Landmark Center's F.K. Weyerhaeuser Auditorium during Black History Month, February 2019.

Not in Our Neighborhood! written by Central High School graduates, Tom Fabel and Eric Wood, is the true story of vicious neighborhood opposition to a home purchase by African American Saint Paul residents in 1924.

The victims, attorney William Francis and his civil rights activist wife Nellie, aroused segregationist sentiment from white neighbors when they sought to relocate from the Rondo neighborhood to a home on Sargent Avenue. Protesting neighbors employed petitions, demonstrations, death threats and ultimately, two cross burnings on the 2000 block of Sargent in their efforts to dissuade the Francis family from the intended move. With help from the NAACP and belated protection from city authorities, the Francis family made the move and remained in the home until William Francis was appointed to an ambassadorship in 1927. That position ended with William's death in 1929, following which his body was returned to Saint Paul for a funeral service at Pilgrim Baptist Church. The play begins at that funeral, and then flashes back to the events in 1924.

"The play is timely despite taking place in 1924. Segregated housing patterns in both Saint Paul and Minneapolis were enforced through much of the 20th century, effects of which remain evident in current housing in both cities," explained Wood, himself raised in the Rondo neighborhood. "Understanding where we came from is essential for our communities to move forward towards racial harmony."

Not in Our Neighborhood! is produced by Minnesota Landmarks and directed by co-author Eric Wood. Public performances are scheduled for February 14 - 16, with additional daytime performances for local high school students. A panel discussion with local legal professionals is scheduled for after the Friday evening performance and a CLE credit is pending.

Tickets are $10 and can be purchased on Landmark Center's website, by calling (651) 292-3063, in-person in the Minnesota Landmarks/Landmark Center office, and at the door each evening of performances, while supplies last. Support for Not in Our Neighborhood! is provided by the Minnesota State Bar Foundation, Ramsey County Historical Society, Mitchell Hamline School of Law, the Pioneer Press, and a Saint Paul Cultural Star grant.

Landmark Center is a dynamic, historic cultural center and central gathering place in downtown Saint Paul. It is owned and sponsored by Ramsey County and managed by Minnesota Landmarks, the non-profit programming and management agency for the building. Senator Foug Hawj Denounces New Federal Policy Proposal Targeting Southeast Asian American Refugees for Deportation

*Matt Roznowski
Office of Senator Foug Hawj*

Senator Foug Hawj (DFL-St. Paul) today joined Release MN8, Voices for Racial Justice, and the Coalition of Asian American Leaders in denouncing a new Trump Administration policy proposal that targets Southeast Asian American refugees for deportation. In response to this development, Sen. Hawj prepared the following statement for a press conference with advocacy organizations that took place earlier today.

"I regret being unable to join you all today, however, I support Release MN8, Voices for Racial Justice, the Coalition of Asian American Leaders, and all the organizations, community members, and impacted families here today. We call on the Trump Administration to immediately stop the senseless deportation of refugees.

I implore my legislative and community colleagues to actively work with our Mayors, our incoming Governor Tim Walz, Lt. Governor-elect Peggy Flanagan, and Attorney General Keith Ellison to do everything we can to protect our Southeast Asian community members. The Trump administration's aggressive policies toward Southeast Asian American families, other immigrants, and refugees of color are degrading and dehumanizing. These policies are un-Minnesotan, un-American, and have no place in our state and our country.

Where is the compassion of our country? I believe, "When you have done your time, you have repaid your debt to society". Yet, families continue to be torn apart and threatened by the Trump administration. The Southeast Asian Americans currently being held have paid their dues, done their time, and should be allowed to live their lives as lawful citizens, here in the US, with their families.

In 2008, President Bush negotiated the Memorandum of Understanding (MOU), protecting Vietnamese community members who arrived before 1995 from deportation. This MOU must be defended by our institutions and our people.

Our state is blessed to have well over 100,000 Hmong, Lao, Cambodian, and Vietnamese Americans making Minnesota their home. They are Minnesotans contributing to the economic vitality and cultural richness of our state. It should also be noted that as a direct result of the Vietnam War, Southeast Asians represent the largest resettled community of refugees in U.S. history.

It is long overdue for all of us to come up with a strategic plan for Minnesota to protect the rights of all of its citizens. We must continue to be a beacon of light. We must continue to aspire daily for justice and fairness. Our stories will not be silenced. We will not be silenced. We still have so much to do. I am ready to do this vital work and I know we all are too.

Thank you for being here today. I look forward to the working with you all."

A few February holidays around the World

*Temperance Brennan
Special to the Forum*

When asked about celebrating a holiday in February, most people may mention Valentine's Day. As an anthropologist, I have studied many different cultures in many parts of the world. Perchance, some of you might want to have gatherings and find out about some other options. Here are a few possibilities. Look for some other iconic days in the March edition of the Forum.

February 7, Independence Day: This public holiday in Grenada celebrates independence from the United Kingdom in 1974 and is Grenada's National Day. Movements toward independence had begun in the 1950s. Independence from the United Kingdom was granted in 1974.

February 11, National Foundation Day: This is a holiday for Japanese people to remind themselves of the nation's founding and is the traditional date on which, according to legend, Emperor Jimmu founded Japan in 660 B.C.

February 18, Independence Day: Gambia was the first African nation colonized by the British and the day looks back to 1965, when it became the last colony in all British Africa to be set free. Gambia became the 116th member of the United Nations.

February 21, Bengali Language Movement Day (Ekushey February): Also referred to as Language Martyrs' Day. This day commemorates protests and sacrifices to protect Bengali as a national language during the Bengali Language Movement of 1952.

February 27, Independence Day: Celebrating the Independence War that gave the Dominican Republic autonomy from Haiti on this day in 1844.

Dellwood Gardens receives 2018 Deubener Award

Dellwood Gardens Assisted Living and Memory Care located at 753 East 7th Street received one of the Saint Paul Area Chamber of Commerce 2018 Deubener Awards for being the best Emerging Business. The award winners were announced at the 10th Annual Saint Paul Area Chamber of Commerce Honors Event in November.

Dellwood Gardens offers high quality Assisted Living and Memory Care Services that are accessible to seniors of every cultural and economic background right here on the East Side of Saint Paul. "We thrive on inspiring and empowering our community and promise to continue our commitment to exceed the needs and expectations of our residents," states Co-owner/Operator Tim FunkMeyer.

The present owners have owned the property at 753 East 7th Street since 2012, and have made many improvements to the facility including completely renovating it into Assisted Living and memory care apartments, now known as Dellwood Gardens. One of the owners, Tim FunkMeyer, stated "We are very happy to be part of the Dayton's Bluff community."

Beautiful gardens have been added to the front lawn with help from a local non-profit, Urban Roots, that hires youth interns to work on growing food and other gardening projects on St.

Paul's East Side.

Dellwood staff work at helping residents maintain an active social life which has a huge impact on their overall well-being. They host a social and snack hour at 3:30 p.m. each day for residents to enjoy quality peer-to-peer interaction, as well as other social activities seven days a week, such as happy hours and socials to welcome new residents, and a regular schedule of music and entertainment events.

The Deubener Small Business Awards are Saint Paul Area Chamber of Commerce awards that are annually given to five organizations that exemplify growth, excellence, risk, diversity, and innovation. The awards are in honor of Walter and Lydia Deubener who were the proprietors of a grocery store in downtown Saint Paul and invented the first shopping bag with handles.

A little history of the uses of 753 East 7th Street: Lawyer Samuel Mayall built his stone mansion on the site in the 1870s. After the Mayall family left their home around 1903, it was used as the Nugent Institute, a drug and alcohol program that made the claim to "cure or kill." Next, the old mansion was headquarters for the City Cycling Club. In 1908, it was the Parental School and Detention Home, which the neighborhood children called the "Bad Boys Home." Ramsey County soon replaced it with Totem Town for boys. In 1915, Home for the Friendless acquired the property, removed the old mansion and built the older part of today's complex. The Home for the Friendless organization was started by women from 12 Saint Paul Churches in 1867 to provide a home for homeless women and children. The name was later changed to the Protestant Home and started to serve the elderly. Over the years a number of organizations have run the home including the Wilder Foundation, who added the 1976 addition on the building. It is now owned and operated as Dellwood Gardens Assisted Living and Memory Care.

St. Paul remembers Black History Month

Steve Trimble Forum Historian

Since February is Black History Month, I thought people might want to read a few stories of African American events in St. Paul's past, starting with a happening on the East Side.

March 29, 1967: The Crispus Attucks Home, located at 469 Collins Street in Railroad Island was razed on this day. It was a structure with an important history for the African American community. It had been started because most orphanages would not admit black children and some of the older generation were left on their own. Two AME missionaries, Will and Fannie King, first opened a residence for both in a small house near Oakland Cemetery. In the spring of 1908, the residents journeyed to rural Randolph Avenue in what is now the heart of Highland Park.

The new site was dubbed "The Farm," and elders helped up to 20 children lead busy lives with school, study time, Saturday night baths, Sunday school, and labor. The boys worked the farm and the girls cooked and trained to be domestic workers. By the early 1920s, however, orphanage services had ended and the institution itself became a home for around 16 elderly people at the East Side location. The structure slowly deteriorated and in 1966, the state bought the house and the Wilder Foundation took in the few remaining residents.

January 13, 1926: The Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters was organized on this day, largely due to the work of Frank Boyd. He was born in Kansas and arrived in St. Paul in 1904. Boyd started working as a Pullman porter for the Northern Pacific Railroad. Because of his organizing activities, the company fired him, but he continued working for the union while working at a packing plant.

Through his efforts, Local 3 soon grew to over 700 members. The civil rights and political activist died in California on May 2, 1962, and is buried in Elmhurst Cemetery in St. Paul. A park on Selby just east of Western Street was named in honor of Boyd on May 1, 1986.

March 20, 1905: Mrs. T. H. Lyles was featured in this day's issue of the St. Paul Globe. As the president of the Minnesota Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, she had addressed a group at the local St. James A. M. E. Church. The topic of the talk was "The Progress Made by the Colored Race." In spite of "the germ disease of prejudice which stands a hydra headed monster in our midst," she said, things were improving.

Her suggestions were in line with that of Booker T. Washington, one stream of African American thought at the time that featured self-improvement as a response to racism. "Our women must teach their sons and daughters that the best help is that which comes within themselves," she said. They must "Be careful of their deportment on the streets, in the cars, and in all public places," and needed to combine thrift and energy with culture and achievement.

April 16, 1987: August Wilson, an African American playwright, won the Pulitzer Prize for Fences on this day. The work was part of his series offering known as The Pittsburgh Cycle, a group of 10 plays.

He won a second Pulitzer in 1990 for The Piano Lesson. Each work is set in a different decade and depicts the comic as well as the tragic aspects of the African-American experience.

He had a long association with the local Penumbra Theater which premiered many of his works. "I think my plays offer a different way to look at Black Americans," he said in an interview. In Fences they see a garbage man. White people find out that the content of this black garbage man's life is affected by the same things... recognizing that these things are as much part of his life as theirs can affect how they think about and deal with black people in their lives."

December 19, 1996: St. Paul changed the name of Dunning Field to Toni Stone Stadium on this day. Born Marcenia Lyle Alberga in St. Paul, as a teenager she played with the local boys' teams in her hometown.

During World War II she moved to San Francisco, playing for the San Francisco Sea Lions, a Black, semi-pro barnstorming team.

In 1953 the Indianapolis Clowns signed Stone to play second base to replace Hank Aaron. This contract made Stone the first woman to play in the Negro Leagues. The Clowns were well-known for their showmanship, but by the '50s were playing straight baseball. In 1954, Stone's contract was sold to the Kansas City Monarchs, one of the stronger teams in the Negro Leagues. But a lack of playing time led Stone to retire that season. She was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1990. After the city declared an official "Toni Stone Day," St. Paul named a baseball field just west of Central High School for her accomplishments. She died in 1996 at the age of 75.

Matt Frank
Communication & Media Specialist, Mississippi Market

Mississippi Market was recently awarded a 2018 Twin Cities Indie Business Award in the Impact category for its commitment to positively influencing the community through local sourcing and sustainable business practices. As a community-owned and -operated business, Mississippi Market could not exist without the strong support and engagement of our local Saint Paul community, co-op member-owners, staff, and vendors. As a consumer-owned grocery store, Mississippi Market provides high-quality, fair-priced goods and services while empowering our diverse communities to be healthy, make choices that help sustain our planet, and create a more just local economy.

The Twin Cities Indie Business Awards are held annually by the Twin Cities Metro Independent Business Alliance to celebrate the many economic and social benefits that local, independent businesses have on our local metropolitan community. Nominations for four categories, including the Founder Award, Emerging Award, Impact Award, Non-Profit Award, and Gary Mazzone Award, which honors an individual who advocates for local independent businesses in a way that inspires others, were open to the public earlier this year. Finalists were announced in September and winners were announced at an award ceremony held at Day Block Brewing Company in Minneapolis on Tuesday, November 13.

"We are honored and humbled for this recognition from our local community," states Gail Graham, Mississippi Market Co-op's General Manager. "We're thrilled to have been nominated in the Impact Award category along with other local business leaders, including Castle Building and Remodeling, Green Space True Natural Design, and Software for Good. Without strong support from local community partners, Mississippi Market would not be the business we are today – a thriving natural foods cooperative owned by over 19,000 Twin Citians who value good food and direct relationships with the farmers, producers, and growers who make it."

Mississippi Market Natural Foods Co-op has been offering local, organic food at a fair price to its St. Paul neighbors for 40 years. As a consumer-owned grocery store, Mississippi Market provides high-quality, fair-priced goods and services, and works toward a sustainable local economy and global environment. Mississippi Market is a food co-op open to everyone that empowers our diverse communities to be healthy, make choices that help sustain our planet, and create a more just local economy. "Cosi Fan Tutte" coming to the Historic Mounds Theatre

Vera Mariner
Marketing and Communications Manager
Skylark Opera

Vera Mariner, Marketing and Communications Manager for Skylark Opera Theatre, recently sat down for a fun Q & A session with Skylark Opera Theatre's Artistic Director, Bob Neu, as he prepares for the upcoming production of "Cosi fan Tutte" presented at the Historic Mounds Theatre.

Q: What makes Skylark Opera Theatre unique in this current day and age?

A: Instead of focusing on special effects and visual stimulation, we focus on intimate story-telling and explore the intimacies of the human condition.

Q: What makes Skylark unique in the local arts community?

A: We're the only company performing opera on an intimate scale and placing the audience INSIDE the production.

Q: Can you give us a brief history of Skylark then and now?

A: For 45 years, Skylark focused on traditional operettas and music theater pieces performed in a traditional proscenium theater and with a traditional sense of staging and storytelling. There are now many companies that do this and Skylark wanted to break free of those traditions and find a new way to offer the operatic and music theater repertoire.

Q: Tell us about your upcoming production.

A: Skylark Opera Theatre throws a modern new light on the story of two guys who think they can dupe their girlfriends by switching places. But, the women have their own power and they aren't afraid to use it! Mozart's gorgeous score is sung in English.

Q: Why this piece?

A: "Cosi fan tutte" is often written-off as an opera that is too misogynistic to be effective in our current time. So, despite its fantastic score, it's not often produced. We at Skylark Opera think this masterpiece can withstand being viewed through a contemporary lens. And when this happens, the traditional roles of the sexes are upended, and this proves to be a very timely work with an empowering mes- sage for both men and women.

Q: What prompted you to choose our neighborhood's Historic Mounds Theatre?

A: It's an underutilized theater that offers the possibility of many different configurations and lay-outs. Also, we admire the building's history.

"Cosi Fan Tutte" is directed by Bob Neu and sung in English. Performances run Friday, March 22, Saturday, March 23, Friday, March 29, and Saturday, March 30, at 7:30 p.m., as well as Sunday, March 24, and Sunday, March 31, at 2:00 p.m.

Tickets are $45 general, $43 senior, $40 MPR members (phone order with member ID only), and $40 students.

Call Ticketworks at (612) 343-3390 or order online at <https://ticketworks.com/event-list/cosi-fan-tutte/>

ASL date and post-show discussions to be announced. Performance is presented THROUGHOUT the Historic Mounds Theater, located at 1029 Hudson Road, St. Paul.
